Official Report

Background

Central to the legitimacy of representative government is the integrity of the electoral system. Public confidence in the institution of government rests directly on the capacity of the electoral system to perform efficiently, reliably, impartially, and in a timely manner. Pursuant to these objectives, The Election Act, 1996 contains financial reporting provisions to ensure registered political parties and candidates achieve the transparency goals inherent in the Act. Of particular emphasis is the objective of heightened financial disclosure to enhance public confidence and political stakeholder accountability.

Preliminary Remarks

As per section 286 of the Election Act, 1996, the Chief Electoral Officer is required to prepare and submit, as soon as practicable after an election, a report summarizing each candidate's and registered political party's financial returns. In Volume II, the reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures depicts election financial activities of each of these groups. More specifically, Volume II sets out the amounts paid to chief official agents and business managers in respect of each registered political party and candidate, pursuant to section 264 and 265 of the Act. Also included in this volume is summary data for election administration related expenditures of Elections Saskatchewan.

Election Expense Limits

Election campaign activities of registered political parties and candidates are subject to certain expense limitations under the Act. With respect to spending, election expense limitations are imposed on the amounts that can lawfully be incurred by a party or candidate. A second limit regulates the reimbursement entitlement of a qualifying party or candidate and reimbursement of auditor accounts.

Expense limits are based on factors specific to which the expenses pertain (i.e., general election or by-election), on whether an election is held in a northern or southern constituency ("southern constituency" includes all constituencies with the exception of Athabasca or Cumberland) and on an established formula adjusted each calendar year. Expense limit information is available in The Saskatchewan Gazette or at Elections Saskatchewan upon request.

Registered Political Party and Candidate Financial Reporting

In accordance with section 251 of the Act, audited registered political party's return of election expenses, form E-524, are required to be filed with the Chief Electoral Officer within six months after polling day (May 7, 2012). Under section 261 of the Act, candidates are required to file an audited candidate's return of election expenses, form E-412, within three months after polling day (February 7, 2012). Pursuant to the Act, within thirty days of receipt, a summary of all returns respecting candidate election expenses is published.

Candidate returns were receipted within the specified filing deadline for all but one candidate. The candidate return for the Saskatchewan Liberal Association candidate in The Battlefords was filed on August 10, 2012.

All election expense returns were audited as required by the Act.

i) Registered Political Parties

The November 7, 2011 election acknowledged six political parties for the purpose of fielding candidates. To maintain party registration, registered political parties must endorse at least two candidates in a general election pursuant to clause 227(1)(b) of the Act. The Saskatchewan Party, the New Democratic Party, and the Green Party fielded candidates in all 58 constituencies. Appendix I of this volume contains a listing of the names and abbreviations of the province's political parties, their respective leaders, and chief official agents as recognized in the register of political parties maintained pursuant to section 231 of the Act.

A registered political party that endorsed candidates who obtained in the aggregate not less than 15% of the valid votes cast in the election and whose chief official agent filed a registered political party's return of election expenses pursuant to section 264 of the Act was entitled to receive a reimbursement of a portion of its election expenses from the province's General Revenue Fund. Under section 243 of the Act, each registered political party was entitled to spend $908,093.00 during the campaign. The amount reimbursed to a qualifying party was one half of its election expenses or the maximum amount of $454,046.50.

The Act is specific with respect to payment of reimbursement of eligible election expenses. As such, following receipt of an audited return, the Chief Electoral Officer conducts a preliminary review and thereafter forwards an interim payment of 75% of allowable election expenses claimed. Upon completion of a detailed compliance review, a final payment of 25% of the total amount of eligible election expense is paid.

Election expense returns for the six registered political parties were received on time.

Appendix III sets out a summary of eligible expenses incurred by the six registered political parties and the amounts paid with respect to the parties who qualified for reimbursement. Contributions made to political parties are not listed in the registered political party's return of election expenses but are set out in each registered political party's fiscal period return, form E-521, filed in accordance with section 250 of the Act. Comparative summary data for election expenses incurred by registered political parties in 2011 and nine preceding general elections is contained in Appendix V.

(ii) Candidates

At the close of nomination, 191 candidates had been nominated for the 2011 election: 58 Green Party, 58 New Democratic Party, 5 Progressive Conservative Party, 9 Saskatchewan Liberal Association, 58 Saskatchewan Party, 2 Western Independence Party, and 1 non-designated candidate.

Under section 236 of the Act, each candidate is required to appoint a business manager whose responsibility is to report the candidate's receipt of contributions and campaign expenses. Each candidate is also required to appoint an auditor pursuant to section 238 of the Act. A list of the names, addresses, and occupations of the candidates nominated, together with the names and addresses of their respective business managers can be found in Appendix II of this volume.

Candidates are limited to the amount of money that each can spend in their respective campaigns pursuant to section 252 of the Act. A candidate in the 56 southern constituencies is entitled to spend (a) the sum of $52,674.00 or (b) a sum obtained by multiplying the number of voters in the constituency by $3.52, whichever sum is larger. The limit for each candidate who ran in either of the northern constituencies of Athabasca or Cumberland is (a) the sum of $70,230.00 or (b) a sum obtained by multiplying the number of names on the voters' list in the constituency by $7.00, whichever sum is larger.

A candidate that obtains not less than 15% of the total number of valid votes cast in the constituency in which they were a candidate and whose business manager filed with the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer a candidate's return of election expenses pursuant to section 265 of the Act is entitled to a reimbursement of a portion of their election expenses from the General Revenue Fund. The amount reimbursed to a qualifying candidate is an amount equal to 60% of the candidate's election expenses to a maximum of $31,604.40, or in the case of the two northern constituencies, Athabasca and Cumberland, reimbursement of election expenses to a maximum of $42,138.00.

For the November 7, 2011 election, there were 112 candidates who qualified for reimbursement, receiving in the aggregate $2,669,984.91. In accordance with section 265 of the Act, reimbursements were paid by installment: 75% being released following preliminary review by the Chief Electoral Officer with the remaining 25% forwarded following conduct of a detailed compliance review.

Appendix IV is a summary of contributions received, expenses incurred, and reimbursements paid to each candidate and/or their business manager. A comparative summary of expenses incurred and reimbursements paid to the registered political parties is set out in Appendix VII.

Finally, Appendix VI of this volume contains a summary by political party of candidates nominated, numbers of candidates in respect of whom returns were filed, and numbers of candidates reimbursed in the 2011 and nine preceding general elections

(iii) Auditors

The reporting requirements and the responsibility assumed through consenting to appointment as auditor of a registered political party[1] or candidate includes reporting in writing to the chief official agent or business manager on the respective election expenses return prepared on behalf of the party or individual candidate.

The auditor must employ generally accepted accounting principles and generally accepted auditing standards when reviewing the spending and financial records of a party or candidate. Auditors' duties extend to thorough examination of the accounting records of a party or of a candidate, permitting him or her to reach an opinion as to whether the return examined presents fairly the transactions contained in the accounting records on which the return is based. It is compulsory that the party's chief official agent or candidate's business manager provide the information and explanations necessary to facilitate preparation of the auditor's report. In instances where the auditor has reason to believe or is suspicious that proper accounting records were not kept by the party or candidate, the auditor must report same.

An auditor's account of a registered political party or candidate is reimbursable regardless of whether the party/candidate qualifies for reimbursement. Pursuant to subsections 267(3) and (6) of the Act, the maximum reimbursement for auditing services rendered in respect of preparation of a report pertaining to registered political party and candidate election expense returns was $2,694.00 and $875.00 respectively. See Appendix VIII for aggregate amounts paid for auditor reimbursement with respect to registered political parties and candidates.

Orders and Authorizations of the Chief Electoral Officer

The Chief Electoral Officer may make exceptions to the Act's financial reporting provisions for election purposes for both registered political parties and candidates. In such instances, the Act, under subsection 286(1), mandates that the Chief Electoral Officer report on the situation and events surrounding the order or authorization granted.

Pursuant to subsection 262(7) of the Act, the Chief Electoral Officer granted 84 orders for the extension of time to prepare and file the required candidate's return of election expenses, form E-412.

Elections Saskatchewan Expenditures

As of August 31, 2011, Elections Saskatchewan incurred election expenditures of $14,855,308.48, inclusive of administrative and constituency account payments for the 2011 general election. This expenditure figure represents a total cost per voter of $24.63. In addition to the foregoing, Appendix VIII establishes the Chief Electoral Office's election expenditures incurred for provision of central coordination and support to constituency returning officers and aggregate costs associated with the conduct of the election in the province's 58 constituencies. Also summarized in Appendix VIII are total

[1] To fulfill registration maintenance requirements under the Act, a registered political party must provide the name and address of its auditor in its application for registration, pursuant to clause 224(1)(f).

election expenditures for each of the province's individual constituencies. A more detailed constituency expenditure report will be tabled before the end of 2012.

Documentation

Both candidates' financial returns and registered political party returns are audited by the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer. Once audited, the information is available to the public during regular office hours at Elections Saskatchewan and may also be viewed on the Elections Saskatchewan website at www.elections.sk.ca.

Establishment and Use of Mobile Polls

In keeping with the legislation, Volume II also reports on the establishment and use of mobile polls.

The reporting requirement for the establishment and use of mobile polls originates from a period when the use of mobile polls was limited to special or unusual circumstances such as floods, fires, or other natural disasters. The Chief Electoral Officer was required to report on the constituency and number of polls for issues of security and transparency.

In 2004, the all-party committee on revisions to The Election Act, 1996 advised the Chief Electoral Officer to adapt the use of the mobile poll for use in private personal care facilities and personal care homes. This was done for the 2007 provincial general election and was very well received by residents, family members, and the administration of most personal care facilities and personal care homes. This practice continued for the 2011 general election despite no formal changes being made to the legislation. Today, mobile polls are an expected and accepted polling option regularly used for personal care facilities and homes throughout the province.

See Appendix IX for a constituency-by-constituency summary of the number of mobile polls established for the 2011 general election. A detailed list of mobile polls established in each constituency can be found in the Statement of Votes, Volume I.

The names and associated constituencies for all 58 returning officers are set out in Appendix X of this volume.

Circumstances in which application was made:

Pursuant to section 261 of The Election Act, 1996 (the "Act"), the business manager for the Dwain Lingenfelter campaign must file with the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer, no later than February 8, 2012, the Candidate's Return of Election Expenses (Form E-412) for the provincial general election held on November 7, 2011, in the constituency of Regina Douglas Park.

The Regina Douglas Park campaign shared some expenses with the Regina Dewdney campaign, as will be documented by a Joint Agreement but the Business Manager for Regina Dewdney is going on vacation for the next few weeks and adequate time is needed to communicate with the Regina Dewdney Business Manager to properly account for all expenses, should the need arise. In the e-mail received January, 16 2012, Stephen Moore, pursuant to clause 263(1) (b) has asked for an order of the Chief Electoral Officer requesting an extension of time for a period of 30 days in which to prepare and file the return.

In my opinion, the circumstances make the following authorization necessary.

Application of order:
This order of the Chief Electoral Officer applies to the following:

Extension of time to prepare and file the required Candidate's Return of Election Expenses (Form E-412) of Dwain Lingenfelter, candidate in the provincial general election held on November 7, 2011, in the constituency of Regina Douglas Park.

Exception provided by order:

Pursuant to clause 263(3) (a), the Chief Electoral Officer grants the application made on behalf of Dwain Lingenfelter. Specifically, the aforementioned campaign has until the close of business of March 9, 2012 to meet the formal requirements of section 261 of the Act.
